I had a considerable amount of stock in the Missouri Pacific and gradually increased my interest in the Kansas Pacific, the Kansas & Nebraska and the St. Joseph & Western. I bought in open market, but consulted with Sidney Dillon, Jay Gould, James R. K-ene, Addison Cammack and others. Knew of the St. Louis pool in 1878 and was interested in it to the extent of $200,000. I did this to increase the $2.29. of $200,000. I did this to increase the value of my Missouri Pacific securities. I was a purchaser of Kassas Pacific securi-ties before and after the execution of the 2.09.3.4 rates fixed by this mortgage in which Messrs, Ames, Atkins, Dillon, Gould and Holmes were consulted. I think that I had no interest in the securities which were changed for the Control of the Control o changed for the $5,400,000 consolidated bonds. Mr. Calef kept the accounts of the

I suppose that the fixing of the amount to these bends at $3,400,000 was the result of a conference; it is so long ago that I cannot remember how it was done. As a trustee I was bound in justice to the Union Pacific Co., and as a member of the committee to protect the member of the committee to protect the interest of the holders of securities.

Nathan Niles, a government director of the Union Pacific for the year 1879, swore that he attended the meetings of the board and examined the books of the company at the main office in Boston. He was a member of of the finance committee and attend ed all the meetings of the directors except one. The conclusions of my examination were that if the policy of the management was carried out the government demands against the road would be satisfied. I heard of the consolidation first through the public prints and afterward from directors, but what directors I don't now remember do not know whether I was president at the consolidation. I considered the consol-blation of benefit to the Union Pacific.

A Cherokee Indian's Honor. There can hardly be a doubt that there is omething wrong about the Indian country. There is not a jail anywhere within the bounds of the Cherokee reservation. No country can ever be at a high point of civilisation in which there are no jails and nobody foes anything to need them. We have always been taught to look upon Damon and Pythias as one of the most beautiful stories of friendthip and honor. Listen to this from the Cherokee Indian, and ask yourself if it does not give you some different opinion of him. An Indian was shot for killing another man some time ago. A stranger in the territory happened to be with the sheriff when the ews came that the appeal had been lost and e sentence must be carried out.

"Yes," said the sheriff, "I'll have to have the poor fellow shot."
"Where is he! I don't see any jail."

"He's at home." "A prisoner under sentence of death at bome!" "Certainly; he's out on his word. He's been at home three months. We've got no jails here."

"Well, you don't expect to get him to come and be shot?" "Certainly I do. He'll be here to-morrow.

sent for him." And the merry stranger laughed. Next fay he was on hand to witness the sheriff's discomfiture. But a few minutes before the hour a cavalcade appeared in the distance. It was headed by a manly young Indian and it was made up of his friends. They rode gal-lantly up and the young Indian surrendered himself to the sheriff. He went about among the crowd, shook hands with everybody, gave one his saidle, another his horse and so on, until he had disposed of all he possessed. Then he selected his bosom friend as the man to fire the fatal shot, an honor his bosom friend esteemed highly. He took his place, he pinned a piece of blue ribbon over his heart, the point the bullet was to take, and stood up like a man. A few seconds, there was a shot and he was dead. I wonder if there is nothing at all the white man can learn from the Cherokee Indian. -- San Francisco Chronicle "Undertones."
